

GrantWriterUSA (GWUSA) is an independent grantwriting organization with a dynamic team of grantwriters with over 80 years of combined Non-profit and For-profit business development experience. We will identify, define, and develop funding sources to support existing and planned program activities as well as coordinate the development, grant writing, and submission of grant proposals to third-party entities. Additionally, we will be responsible for collecting, analyzing, and reporting data on the performance of program activities that are funded by third-party public and private sources.

All of our grantwriters have at least a Bachelor's degree or have worked in related discipline with a minimum of ten years of related experience and a proven track record in grant writing and program development. Most of our grantwriters have Master's Degrees and PhD's in a number of related fields. Our grantwriters must have excellent written and verbal communication skills, be proficient in research, interpreting, and analyzing diverse data and possess the ability to work collaboratively and independently to achieve stated goals.

We have experience with Case Management, Counseling, program planning, writing, development and coordination. Our expertise is varied in non profit business development. Our grantwriters have graduated from the N.P.B.D. management courses at U.N.L.V.

We have organized and developed 90+ state and national non profit entities with financial planning and grant support for a variety of projects and programs for decades. This includes individuals as well as small businesses and larger corporations throughout America. In addition, we have assisted a number of overseas NGO's in their pursuit of International grant awards.

Our grant team's diverse backgrounds incorporate 50+ years working in the nonprofit arena as Volunteers, Consultants, Board Members, program designers & developers, grant writers and paid staff persons. We have expertise in compiling grants, researching grants and writing grants of all shapes & sizes.

We have designed & developed 17 components of a non profit business curriculum (1996) that is still taught at the Community College of Southern Nevada and the University of Nevada Las Vegas campus for the United Way of Southern Nevada.

One of our principal grantwriters has taught non profit business development at both the University of Nevada-Las Vegas and the Community College of Southern Nevada (1997-2005); we have designed and developed non profit organizations from the beginning idea to the final certification as a non profit, 501©3 for the Internal Revenue Service.

We have written Homeland Security Grants, Firefighter Applications, FEMA Applications, 8A Applications, Federal, State, County, City and Regional grant requests. We have written Foundation and private grants as well as other unusual monetary requests for agencies and organizations. We also have written health grants, requests for substance abuse prevention programs and youth co-operatives as well as other counseling and mental health services through BADA and SAMHSA. Additionally, we have researched, identified, developed and responded to public and private grant opportunities in the areas of Agriculture/Food/Farming, Animal Welfare, Arts and Cultural Programs, Business Incubation/Development, Christian Programs, Youth and Children, Civil Rights, Community Development, Crime Legal Law, Disaster Relief, Education, Employment/Jobs, Energy and Environment, Healthcare Services, Housing, Human Services, Medical/Research, Mental Health, Public Affairs, Recreation/Sports, Social Services, Technology.

Our experiences in four sectors: education, private business, corporate marketing, and human resources have blended together in ways that help strengthen our insight in the business and non-profit world. It further enables us to demonstrate how to formulate capacity building to the non-profit foundations and businesses that we advise; and moreover, through these collaborations it permits us to be an advocate for the constituencies that we contact for the client.
